The moment only till obosen for the reduction is that at which bustronger ness is improving; coal mines have been distoness is improving; coal mines have been discobars. | gether bright than they have done for some time. caning past. The value of the entire import and experitrade during 1867 amounted to Tis, 7,745,570 -nearly twice as much as that of Newchwang. The opinm trade has increased since 18:4 from The 850,000 to Tis. 2,800,000; The they of the same period from 2,000 pieces to $8,500 tion of pieces; the import of sugar from 8,300 picular been to 90,000 picula; and that of metals, sandalwood, etc., etc. has been juricely less marked. The trade in British hands, which fell very iple, to much during 1866 and part of 1867, in great measure through the defalcations of Chinesa compradores, has of late much improved. And lastly there has been a striking increase in population. Three years ago, there were hardly any building along the banks of the Canal Now, there is a large enburh with many wealthy ed the nutive hough, and new houses are being con-ic and stantly crected. Everything in short, prothe mises a return of the prosperity which was lound existing at the time of our visit in 1844. but which the Tanning rebellion destroyed. Efficts are being made, for instance, to revive he production of Ten and Silk at Li-yang and Woohoo, which was rained by that scourge; and for the produce of these districts Chinkeang la the natural outlet. Altogether, then, it seems that the moment is singularly ill-chosen for removing a Concel, and entrusting British interests at the port to a sabordinate. At the time the change was contemplated, it may have been justifiable, as Chinkenn scemed hopelessly annit; but there is now every reason to foster a reviving trade.
